Q7

If elected, what would be your first priority as a City Councilor?

If elected as a City Councilor in Albuquerque, my first priority would be to foster an environment that promotes economic growth and job creation.

To achieve this, I would focus on implementing policies that attract and retain businesses, while also supporting local entrepreneurs and small business owners. By streamlining regulations and reducing bureaucratic red tape, we can create a business-friendly climate that encourages investment and expansion.

Additionally, I would advocate for strategic partnerships between the city and educational institutions, ensuring that our workforce is equipped with the skills and training necessary to thrive in a rapidly changing economy. By collaborating with local schools, colleges, and vocational training centers, we can provide residents with access to quality education and job opportunities.

Furthermore, I would prioritize the revitalization of our neighborhoods and commercial districts. By investing in infrastructure improvements, such as upgrading transportation systems and ensuring access to high-speed internet, we can attract new businesses and stimulate economic activity. Additionally, I would work towards creating community spaces and promoting local events, fostering a sense of pride and unity among residents and visitors alike.

Ultimately, my goal as a City Councilor would be to create an environment where businesses can thrive, residents can find meaningful employment, and our city can prosper. By focusing on economic growth and job creation, we can improve the quality of life for all Albuquerque residents and build a stronger, more resilient community.

What can you as a City Councilor do to determine the usefulness of ordinances and regulations in serving citizens without unnecessarily overburdening anyone?

As a City Councilor in Albuquerque, I recognize the importance of balancing the needs of citizens with the impact of ordinances and regulations. To determine their usefulness without unnecessarily overburdening anyone, I would approach the evaluation process through the following steps:

1. Regular Review: I would advocate for periodic reviews of existing ordinances and regulations to ensure they remain relevant and effective. This would involve soliciting feedback from citizens, businesses, and relevant stakeholders to gauge their experiences and identify any areas of improvement or potential burdens.
2. Cost-Benefit Analysis: It is crucial to conduct a thorough cost-benefit analysis of proposed and existing ordinances and regulations. This analysis should consider the potential positive impacts on public health, safety, and quality of life, balanced against any potential negative consequences or economic burdens. This approach ensures that regulations are serving citizens while minimizing unnecessary burdens.
3. Collaboration and Transparency: Engaging with citizens and business owners throughout the process is essential. I would actively seek input from community members and industry experts to better understand their perspectives and concerns. By fostering an environment of collaboration and transparency, we can identify potential issues early on and work towards solutions that are fair and efficient.
4. Utilizing Data and Research: Relying on data-driven decision-making can help determine the usefulness of ordinances and regulations. By analyzing relevant data and conducting research, we can assess the impact of existing policies and make informed adjustments or recommendations for improvement.
5. Flexibility and Adaptability: Recognizing that circumstances change, I would advocate for ordinances and regulations to be adaptable and flexible. This would involve regularly monitoring their effectiveness and being responsive to emerging challenges or opportunities. By being open to adjustments and amendments, we can ensure that regulations continue to serve citizens without unnecessary burdens.

By following these steps, I am confident that we can strike a balance between serving citizens and avoiding unnecessary overburdening. It is crucial that we maintain a regulatory environment that promotes public welfare while also fostering a thriving and sustainable economy in Albuquerque.

What would you do to streamline permitting and other government red tape in order to attract new business to the city?

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I understand the importance of streamlining permitting processes and reducing government red tape to attract new businesses to our city. To achieve this goal, I would focus on the following strategies:

1. Review and Simplify Permitting Procedures: I would initiate a comprehensive review of the existing permitting procedures, identifying areas where unnecessary bureaucracy and delays occur. By streamlining and simplifying these processes, we can significantly reduce the time and effort required for businesses to obtain necessary permits. This could involve implementing online application systems, establishing clear guidelines, and improving coordination between different departments involved in the permitting process.
2. Establish a Single Point of Contact: To enhance efficiency and accountability, I would propose the creation of a single point of contact within the city government for businesses seeking permits. This individual or team would guide businesses through the entire process, serving as a liaison between different departments and ensuring a smooth and timely experience.
3. Collaborate with Business Community: It is crucial to actively engage with the business community to understand their concerns and needs. By seeking input from local businesses, industry associations, and economic development organizations, we can identify specific pain points and work collaboratively to find innovative solutions. This approach will ensure that the streamlining efforts are tailored to the unique challenges faced by businesses in Albuquerque.
4. Invest in Technology and Training: Embracing technology solutions, such as online application portals and automated systems, can significantly expedite the permitting process. Additionally, providing adequate training to city staff responsible for permit processing will improve their efficiency and understanding of business needs.
5. Regular Review and Improvement: Once the streamlining measures are implemented, it is vital to continuously monitor and evaluate their effectiveness. Regular feedback from businesses and ongoing collaboration with relevant stakeholders will enable us to identify any bottlenecks or areas for further improvement.

By implementing these strategies, we can create a business-friendly environment in Albuquerque, attracting new businesses and fostering economic growth while maintaining necessary oversight and compliance.

Q10

Albuquerque holds top national rankings for homicide and other serious crimes. How would you use the position of City Councilor to make the citizens of Albuquerque safer?

Ensuring the safety and well-being of the citizens of Albuquerque is of paramount importance to me as a City Council candidate. To address the concerning rankings in homicide and serious crimes, I would utilize my position as a City Councilor to implement a comprehensive approach that focuses on the following strategies:

1. Enhancing Community Policing: I believe in the power of community engagement and collaboration with law enforcement agencies. I would advocate for increased funding and resources to support community policing initiatives, such as neighborhood watch programs, citizen academies, and community outreach events. By fostering stronger relationships between law enforcement and residents, we can promote trust, communication, and collective responsibility for public safety.
2. Targeted Crime Prevention Strategies: It is essential to analyze crime data and identify high-crime areas and patterns. Through collaboration with law enforcement agencies, community organizations, and social service providers, we can develop targeted crime prevention strategies tailored to these specific areas. This may include increased police presence, improved street lighting, and investment in social programs that address underlying factors contributing to crime.
3. Investing in Education and Youth Programs: To address the root causes of crime, we must prioritize education and provide opportunities for our youth. I would advocate for increased funding for after-school programs, mentorship initiatives, and vocational training to keep young people engaged, off the streets, and away from criminal activities.
4. Collaboration with State and Federal Agencies: As a City Councilor, I would actively collaborate with state and federal agencies to address crime issues that extend beyond the city's jurisdiction. By fostering partnerships and sharing resources, we can tackle complex challenges, such as drug trafficking and organized crime networks.
5. Data-Driven Approach: I would push for the use of data-driven strategies to inform decision-making and resource allocation. By analyzing crime data and utilizing evidence-based practices, we can identify effective interventions and allocate resources where they are most needed.
6. Strengthening Victim Support Services: It is crucial to prioritize the needs of crime victims and provide them with adequate support services. I would work to enhance victim advocacy programs, improve access to counseling and legal assistance, and ensure that victims' voices are heard throughout the criminal justice process.

Through these multifaceted strategies, I am confident that we can make significant progress in reducing crime rates, improving public safety, and creating a safer environment for the citizens of Albuquerque.

What would you do as a City Councilor to keep current businesses from closing/leaving while attracting more businesses to Albuquerque?

As a City Council candidate, I recognize the importance of maintaining a thriving business environment in Albuquerque while also attracting new businesses to our city. To achieve this, I would utilize my position as a City Councilor to implement a comprehensive approach that focuses on the following strategies:

1. Streamline Regulations: I would work towards simplifying and streamlining the regulatory processes for businesses. By reducing bureaucratic barriers and creating a business-friendly environment, we can encourage existing businesses to stay and attract new businesses to Albuquerque.
2. Enhance Business Support Programs: I would advocate for increased funding and resources to support business development and retention programs. This includes providing access to training, mentorship, and financial assistance for entrepreneurs and small business owners. By bolstering these support programs, we can help businesses overcome challenges and foster a culture of entrepreneurship.
3. Improve Infrastructure: I believe that investing in infrastructure is crucial for business growth. I would prioritize the improvement of transportation networks, including roads, bridges, and public transportation, to ensure efficient connectivity between businesses and customers. Additionally, I would advocate for reliable broadband access throughout the city, as it is essential for modern businesses to thrive.
4. Foster Collaboration with Local Institutions: I would actively collaborate with local educational institutions, such as universities and community colleges, to develop programs that align with the needs of businesses. By bridging the gap between academia and industry, we can provide businesses with a skilled workforce while offering students relevant training and employment opportunities.
5. Promote Albuquerque's Unique Assets: I would work to showcase Albuquerque's unique strengths and advantages to attract businesses from various industries. This may include highlighting our skilled workforce, low cost of living, vibrant arts and culture scene, and abundant outdoor recreational opportunities. By actively promoting these assets, we can position Albuquerque as an attractive destination for businesses.
6. Engage in Regional Economic Development Initiatives: I believe in the power of collaboration and would work closely with neighboring cities and counties to develop regional economic development initiatives. By pooling resources, sharing best practices, and creating a unified voice, we can attract larger businesses and industries to Albuquerque and the surrounding region.

Through these strategies, I am confident that we can create a business-friendly environment that supports the growth and success of existing businesses while attracting new ventures to Albuquerque. By fostering collaboration, reducing barriers, and investing in our infrastructure, we can ensure a prosperous and vibrant business landscape for our community.

Q12

While you have no jurisdiction over the courts and judges, you do have influence over crime reduction in the city. What would you do as City Councilor to address the growing number of criminals on our streets?

As a City Council candidate, I am deeply concerned about the growing number of criminals on our streets in Albuquerque. While I recognize that I do not have jurisdiction over the courts and judges, I believe that as a City Councilor, I can play a crucial role in addressing this issue through the following approaches:

1. Strengthening Law Enforcement: I would advocate for increased funding and resources for law enforcement agencies to ensure they have the necessary tools to combat crime effectively. This includes supporting initiatives that enhance community policing efforts, such as increasing the number of officers on the streets and implementing innovative crime prevention strategies.
2. Collaborating with Community Organizations: I believe in the power of community partnerships. I would work closely with local community organizations, neighborhood associations, and non-profits to develop and implement targeted crime prevention programs. By engaging the community in crime reduction efforts, we can create a sense of shared responsibility and promote a safer environment for all residents.
3. Investing in Youth Programs: One of the most effective long-term strategies to address crime is investing in programs that focus on youth development and provide alternatives to criminal activities. I would advocate for increased funding for after-school programs, mentorship initiatives, and vocational training opportunities. By investing in our youth, we can break the cycle of crime and create a brighter future for our community.
4. Enhancing Support for Rehabilitation and Reentry: I believe in the importance of providing support for individuals who have served their sentences and are reintegrating into society. I would work towards expanding rehabilitation programs, job training, and mental health services for individuals who have been involved in criminal activities. By providing them with the tools and support they need to succeed, we can reduce recidivism rates and create a safer community.
5. Engaging in Regional Cooperation: I understand that crime is not limited to city boundaries. I would actively collaborate with neighboring cities, counties, and law enforcement agencies to develop regional strategies to address criminal activity effectively. By sharing resources, intelligence, and best practices, we can create a united front against crime.

While I understand that addressing the growing number of criminals on our streets is a complex issue, I am committed to taking a proactive approach as a City Councilor. By strengthening law enforcement, collaborating with community organizations, investing in youth programs, enhancing support for rehabilitation and reentry, and engaging in regional cooperation, we can make significant strides in reducing crime and creating a safer Albuquerque for all residents.

Regarding the growing homeless situation, what is your plan as a City Councilor to address the needs of this population?

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I recognize the urgency and complexity of addressing the growing homeless situation in our city. I am committed to taking a compassionate and comprehensive approach to meet the needs of this vulnerable population. My plan as a City Councilor to address the needs of the homeless includes the following strategies:

1. Collaborative Partnerships: I believe in the power of collaboration and would work closely with local government agencies, non-profit organizations, faith-based groups, and community stakeholders to develop a coordinated and holistic approach. By pooling resources and expertise, we can maximize our impact and provide a range of services to address the diverse needs of the homeless population.
2. Affordable Housing: Housing instability is a primary factor contributing to homelessness. I would advocate for the development and preservation of affordable housing units in Albuquerque. This includes working with developers, nonprofits, and the state government to increase the availability of affordable housing options, as well as exploring innovative solutions like tiny homes and transitional housing programs.
3. Wraparound Services: Homelessness is often accompanied by a range of interconnected challenges, including mental health issues, substance abuse, and lack of access to healthcare. I would prioritize the expansion of wraparound services, such as mental health counseling, addiction treatment programs, and healthcare clinics, specifically tailored to meet the unique needs of the homeless population.
4. Employment and Job Training: Stable employment is crucial for individuals to regain independence and break the cycle of homelessness. I would support initiatives that provide job training, vocational education, and employment opportunities for the homeless. By partnering with local businesses, we can create pathways to employment and foster economic self-sufficiency.
5. Prevention and Early Intervention: It is essential to address homelessness proactively by implementing prevention and early intervention strategies. I would advocate for programs that provide rental assistance, eviction prevention, and financial planning services to individuals and families at risk of becoming homeless. By addressing the root causes of homelessness, we can prevent its occurrence and reduce the burden on our community.
6. Outreach and Supportive Services: Engaging and building trust with the homeless population is crucial. I would support increased funding for outreach programs that connect individuals experiencing homelessness with essential resources, including emergency shelters, food assistance, and healthcare services. Additionally, I would work to expand case management services to provide ongoing support and guidance for individuals transitioning out of homelessness.

In conclusion, addressing the needs of the homeless population requires a multifaceted approach. By fostering collaborative partnerships, increasing access to affordable housing, providing wraparound services, promoting employment and job training, implementing prevention and early intervention strategies, and enhancing outreach and supportive services, we can make significant progress in addressing the homeless situation in Albuquerque. Through compassion, empathy, and effective policy-making, we can create a more inclusive and equitable city for all residents.

Q14

What is your position on Albuquerque being a 'Sanctuary City'?

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I recognize the importance of thoughtful and informed decision-making when it comes to the issue of Albuquerque being a 'Sanctuary city'. After careful consideration and engagement with various stakeholders, including community members, law enforcement agencies, and legal experts, my position is as follows:

I support Albuquerque being a 'Sanctuary city' that upholds the principles of inclusivity, fairness, and compassion. I believe that our city should be a safe haven for all residents, regardless of their immigration status. By adopting policies that limit cooperation between local law enforcement and federal immigration authorities, we can foster trust and ensure that everyone feels safe and protected within our community.

However, it is crucial to strike a balance between protecting the rights of immigrants and respecting the rule of law. As a City Councilor, I would advocate for policies that prioritize public safety while also respecting the due process rights of all individuals, regardless of their immigration status.

I believe that by being a 'Sanctuary city', we can create an environment where undocumented immigrants feel safe to engage with local law enforcement, report crimes, and access essential public services. This not only enhances public safety but also strengthens the fabric of our community by recognizing the contributions and humanity of all residents.

Furthermore, I would work to ensure that our city's policies align with state and federal laws. It is crucial to engage in open dialogue with state and federal officials to understand their perspectives and collaborate on finding common ground. By doing so, we can maintain a harmonious relationship with other levels of government and advocate for changes in immigration policies that better reflect the values of our community.

In conclusion, my position on Albuquerque being a 'Sanctuary city' is to support policies that prioritize inclusivity, fairness, and public safety. By striking a balance between protecting the rights of immigrants and respecting the rule of law, we can create a welcoming and safe environment for all residents. I am committed to working collaboratively with all stakeholders to ensure that our policies align with state and federal laws while upholding the values of our diverse and compassionate community.

Q15

What is your position on the DOJ's control over the Albuquerque Police Department?

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I recognize the importance of addressing the issue of the Department of Justice's (DOJ) control over the Albuquerque Police Department (APD). After careful consideration and engagement with various stakeholders, including community members, law enforcement professionals, and legal experts, my position is as follows:

I believe that ensuring effective and accountable law enforcement is crucial for the safety and well-being of our community. The DOJ's involvement with the APD came as a result of serious concerns regarding use of force, accountability, and constitutional violations within the department. While the DOJ's oversight has led to some positive changes, it is essential to evaluate the impact and consider the next steps.

My position is to support a gradual transition towards local control of the APD while maintaining a commitment to reform and accountability. This transition should be based on the fulfillment of key benchmarks and indicators, such as improvements in use of force policies, training, and community engagement. It is essential to involve community members, law enforcement professionals, and other stakeholders in the decision-making process to ensure transparency and accountability.

Moreover, we must recognize that effective policing requires collaboration and cooperation between the APD, the community, and other law enforcement agencies. As a City Councilor, I would advocate for continued collaboration with the DOJ, state officials, and community organizations to implement necessary reforms and address the concerns raised by the DOJ.

Furthermore, it is important to explore innovative approaches to community policing that prioritize building trust, improving relationships, and enhancing accountability. This includes promoting community-oriented policing practices, implementing effective civilian oversight mechanisms, and investing in training programs focused on de-escalation techniques, cultural competency, and implicit bias awareness.

In conclusion, my position on the DOJ's control over the Albuquerque Police Department is to support a gradual transition towards local control while maintaining a commitment to reform. By engaging community members, law enforcement professionals, and other stakeholders, we can ensure transparency, accountability, and effective policing practices. I am dedicated to working collaboratively to address the concerns raised by the DOJ, implement necessary reforms, and create a safer and more trusting Albuquerque for all residents.

Relating to 2nd Amendment rights, do you support or oppose ordinances or laws that would outlaw high-capacity magazines or 'assault rifle' possession? Please explain your answer.

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I appreciate the opportunity to address the question regarding my stance on ordinances or laws that would outlaw high-capacity magazines or assault rifle possession in relation to second amendment rights. After careful consideration and consultation with various stakeholders, including community members, law enforcement, and legal experts, my position is as follows:

I support the implementation of ordinances or laws that would regulate high-capacity magazines and assault rifle possession. While I recognize and respect the importance of the 2nd amendment, I believe it is crucial to prioritize public safety and enact reasonable measures to reduce the risk of mass shootings and gun violence in our community.

High-capacity magazines and assault rifles have been used in numerous tragic incidents, resulting in the loss of innocent lives. Restricting access to these firearms and accessories can help mitigate the potential for mass shootings and limit the damage inflicted during such incidents.

It is important to note that supporting regulations on high-capacity magazines and assault rifles does not equate to an outright ban on all firearms. Responsible gun ownership and the ability to protect oneself and family remain essential rights. However, it is necessary to evaluate the potential risks associated with certain firearms and accessories that have been disproportionately used in deadly attacks.

Moreover, I believe in comprehensive gun safety measures that include robust background checks, mental health evaluations, and mandatory training for individuals seeking to purchase firearms. These measures can help ensure that firearms are in the hands of responsible individuals who are committed to the safe and legal use of their firearms.

In conclusion, I support the implementation of ordinances or laws that would regulate high-capacity magazines and assault rifle possession. By enacting reasonable measures, we can prioritize public safety while still upholding the rights of responsible gun owners. It is crucial to strike a balance that aims to reduce the risk of mass shootings and gun violence in our community, while respecting the constitutional rights of citizens. As a City Councilor, I am committed to working towards a safer Albuquerque, where the well-being of our residents is of the utmost importance.

Q17

Relating to 2nd Amendment rights, do you support or oppose the governor's health order on gun carry restrictions? Please explain your answer.

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I appreciate the opportunity to address the question regarding my stance on the governor's health order on gun carry restrictions and its impact on 2nd amendment rights. After careful consideration and consultation with various stakeholders, including legal experts and community members, my position is as follows:

I oppose the governor's health order on gun carry restrictions as it infringes upon the 2nd amendment rights of law-abiding citizens. While I acknowledge the importance of public health and safety, it is crucial to balance these concerns with the constitutional rights afforded to individuals.

The 2nd amendment of the United States Constitution guarantees the right of citizens to keep and bear arms. This right is fundamental and serves as an essential component of our democratic society. Any restrictions placed on this right must be carefully evaluated to ensure they are necessary, proportionate, and do not unnecessarily burden law-abiding citizens.

While public health emergencies may require temporary measures to mitigate risks, it is imperative that these measures are narrowly tailored and based on compelling evidence. Blanket restrictions on gun carry, without clear justification, may disproportionately impact law-abiding citizens who rely on firearms for self-defense and personal safety.

Instead, I believe in promoting responsible gun ownership through education, training, and initiatives that enhance public safety. This includes supporting programs that provide access to firearms training, safe storage options, and mental health resources.

Furthermore, it is important to address the root causes of violence and crime in our community. By focusing on comprehensive approaches, such as investing in mental health services, supporting community-based organizations, and improving economic opportunities, we can create a safer environment for all residents.

In conclusion, I oppose the governor's health order on gun carry restrictions as it infringes upon the 2nd amendment rights of law-abiding citizens. I believe in striking a balance between public health concerns and constitutional rights, promoting responsible gun ownership, and addressing the underlying causes of violence. As a City Councilor, I am committed to protecting the rights of Albuquerque residents while working towards a safer and more inclusive community for all.

Relating to 'Home Rule', do you support or oppose a city's rights to adopt constitutionally based policies that may conflict with state mandates?

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I appreciate the opportunity to address the question regarding my stance on "Home Rule" and a city's right to adopt constitutionally based policies that may conflict with state mandates. After careful consideration and consultation with various stakeholders, including legal experts and community members, my position is as follows:

I support the concept of "Home Rule" and believe that cities should have the ability to adopt constitutionally based policies that may occasionally conflict with state mandates. The principle of local autonomy is essential in ensuring that municipalities have the flexibility to address the unique needs and challenges of their communities.

Cities are often at the forefront of innovation and progress, and their ability to enact policies that align with their constituents' values and priorities is vital for effective governance. By allowing cities to adopt constitutionally based policies, we promote a more diverse and inclusive decision-making process that better represents the will of the local population.

However, it is important to note that "Home Rule" should not be seen as a carte blanche to defy state mandates without proper justification. Any policies adopted by a city should still uphold the principles of the constitution and be in line with existing state and federal laws. Judicial review and checks and balances must be in place to ensure that city policies are fair, just, and do not infringe upon individuals' rights.

Furthermore, collaboration and communication between municipalities and the state government are crucial to ensure a harmonious relationship. It is essential that cities and the state work together to find common ground whenever possible, while respecting the unique circumstances and needs of each community.

In conclusion, I support the concept of "Home Rule" and believe that cities should have the ability to adopt constitutionally based policies that may occasionally conflict with state mandates. This approach promotes local autonomy, diversity, and innovation, while still ensuring adherence to constitutional principles. As a City Councilor, I am committed to advocating for policies that best serve the interests of our community while working collaboratively with state authorities to find common solutions.

Q19

Why are you seeking this office and what makes you the most qualified person to be a City Councilor in this District?

As a City Council candidate in Albuquerque, I am grateful for the opportunity to address why I am seeking this office and why I believe I am the most qualified person to be a City Councilor in this district. In a city as diverse and dynamic as ours, it is crucial to have leaders who are not only passionate about their community but also possess the skills and experience necessary to address the complex challenges we face.

I am seeking this office because I am deeply committed to making a positive difference in the lives of the residents of this district. I have witnessed firsthand the potential our community holds, but I have also seen the struggles and disparities that exist. I believe that by serving as a City Councilor, I can work collaboratively to address these issues and create a more equitable and prosperous future for all.

What sets me apart as the most qualified person for this role is my combination of experience, knowledge, and dedication to public service. With a background in city government, I have developed a deep understanding of the intricacies of local governance, community development, and policy-making. This experience has equipped me with the necessary skills to navigate the complexities of City Council procedures and effectively advocate for the needs of our district.

Moreover, my extensive engagement with the community has given me valuable insights into the concerns and aspirations of our residents. I have actively sought out various perspectives, attending neighborhood association meetings, participating in community events, and listening to the voices of those who often feel unheard. This commitment to inclusivity and community engagement will be the foundation of my approach to decision-making as a City Councilor.

In addition, I am a firm believer in evidence-based decision-making and data-driven solutions. I will work diligently to gather and analyze relevant information to inform my policy positions and ensure that our district's resources are utilized efficiently and effectively.

Overall, my passion for our community, combined with my experience, knowledge, and commitment to collaboration and inclusivity, make me the most qualified person to be a City Councilor in this district. I am ready to dedicate myself to serving the residents of our district and working towards a brighter future for all.
